

DeveloperCards sample PDF

This first page explains what a study card is.

A card asks one question and offers a few options.

The explanation tells the learner why one option is right.

Citing a source

This second page explains how a card cites its source.

The card quotes one chunk of the document word for word.

A reviewer checks the quote against the chunk before publishing.